

CAPRICORN

(DECEMBER 22 – JANUARY 19)

Traits and Characteristics

The position of Capricorn's sign in the horoscope is at its zenith and represents a human being's highest aspirations. The aim of Capricorn natives is to always move ahead and keep climbing, and for this, they use the shoulders of people who are near them and never miss out on the chance.

Such an attitude makes them disinterested and selfish. Normally, Capricorn natives are traditional, frugal, and self-disciplined; they attach more importance to respect and seriousness and never know how to survive with smiles or laughter. They think a lot before performing any task and are rarely ever ready to take on big risks. With their diplomatic and reasoning power, they destroy their emotions in a swinging nature. Their main qualities are intelligence, firmness, hard work, and beauty. Their negative traits are hopelessness, fear, and selfishness, and the fact that they lack emotion.

Two words describe a Capricorn perfectly: discipline and will-power. They take some time to decide their missions, but once they do, they never turn back. They are always careful about listening to what others think, and seldom trust people. Thanks to this suspecting nature, they do not have many friends, but instead have one or two whom they trust greatly. Capricorn natives are thirsty for knowledge. They have a great affinity for history and ancient things. They always remember birthdays and other important dates and have respect for them. People search for and ask them about rituals for marriages and other occasions. After marriage, female Capricorns become more embellished. They always think about the welfare of their mate and children and think of moving ahead in life. Their area of interest also includes searching pairs for marriages, and sometimes they may unnecessarily poke their nose into such matters. Even when their advice is not requested, they go and give it anyway.
