Today we will meet some amazing
new friends,
where fun and adventure never quite ends!

The Phoenix Voyagers all know a lot of cool things, like protecting the planet and the bounty it brings!

This book is so important for you
to see,

because there are many things in our mind to set free.

Let's first meet Frieburd...she is purple
and funny,
she loves nature and hiking on days that are sunny.

Time to follow Frieburd,
she is ready to go...
to meet other Voyagers,
there are many to show.

“We take care of our castle and all have a chore,
But let’s save that for later and go on a tour!”

Let's go in the kitchen where a friend might be found,
"Oh Helios!" Frieburd yelled, looking all around.

A purple alien with long, thin hair and large, bright blue eyes is looking towards a basket of vegetables. The alien has a small tuft of dark hair on its head and a slightly open mouth. The basket contains several heads of broccoli and green beans. The background shows a window with a view of a bright, outdoor scene.

Can you find any sign of a green bird here or there?
No? No? No! There is no sign of Helios anywhere.

Frieburd looked at the pile of broccoli and
beans,
for something seemed odd and not what it seemed.

BOOM! BANG! BAM! Helios jumped up from the pile,
and then he flashed a nice big smile.

It's what helps you to stay fit and a healthy machine.

Helios was quite strong from eating foods full
of green,

Frieburd heard something. "What is that?
Do you hear?"

Helios responded. "Yes! It sounds very near!"

As they listened and waited for something to stir,
it was outside that they heard a rumbling GURRR.

Helios and Frieburd went outside to look
and see...
Lo and behold! It was Professor Cleanfields with his new technology!

TRR!...
ZZT!

You see...each Voyager
has a mission,
each one is so cool...
They protect planet
earth and help kids
learn in school.

Professor Cleanfields LOVES science and all that cool stuff... he learns about energy and keeping the ozone tough.

The machine that he built helps gardens to grow.

He said, "It's just one of my tricks... there are more to MY show!"

“What is that sound?”
You might ask, “What could it be?”

It’s the sound of loud
drums all banging loudly in threes.

Frieburd begins dancing as she hears music down the hall.

And that is quite normal...it happens to us all!

They all rushed to the door where the music was from.

The Professor looked at the crew, "It sounds like a base drum!"

As they entered the room.... big drums were a roar.

The music uplifting, their hearts started to soar!
The one playing the drums did not greet them or look,
he was banging away with his new rhythm hook.

“It's African music my friends,” when he finally spoke...

“We are a people of love;
we are peaceful folk.”

Africa

“My name is Akachi and here are my drums.”

I will teach you about Africa... the place from where I'm from.”

“How do you drum with a rhythm like that?”

“Well my friends, it takes practice...with a ratta tat tat!”

They enjoyed playing music, but there are more Voyagers to greet, Frieburd announced, “Let’s move on to meet the rest of the fleet!”

Gibby entered the room with a spin and a twirl,

“I’m Gibby, here to teach you how to naturally heal!”

“Come with me! Come and learn! I am ready to show!”

Gibby turned to run quickly, “Hurry up guys, let’s go!”

But Frieburd said to the group, “Not just yet.”

“We have more Voyagers in the castle we still haven’t met!”

With a jump and a spin, Gibby agreed to join in.

She loves to visit her friends, you could tell by her grin!

A little bird went zipping
by the Voyager group,
she has so much energy, it must be her youth.

“Koko, come back! We have people to meet!”
Because Koko rallies the kids....she is so very sweet.

There is Kiki, who just came in
with some tea,
she inspires women since action steps are the key.

There is a lot to learn from both Kiki and Koko, every family can learn
things to help the world grow!

“Let’s go to the art room; do you want to come too?”

“That would be so much fun...of course we do!”

“We love to create, so it’s a wonderful plan! We are off to see Giorgio... he’s part of our clan.”

As we entered the room, we could see him quite clear, with his brush and some paint, and his face full a cheer.

He paints with all colors and his skill has sure grown, every creation he's made, he did all on his own!

Giorgio was focused on his painting... he didn't even say 'Hello'... they looked at each other and said, "He looks busy, should we just go?"

“Wait up, just hold on!” said Giorgio, as they turned and walked, turned and walked,
“I received an invitation to visit Jeza the Elder,” the creative bird squawked.

Frieburd turned to the others, with excitement, you see...

Because Jeza, the Elder, is wise and care-free.

The wisest of the Voyagers lives in cave,
He is respected and loved for being humble and brave.

He's one of the ancients
and a strong one indeed, He's helped many generations understand what earth needs.

The birds went up the mountain, a mighty tall climb, Jeza was ringing the bells, making them chime.

Jeza gathered the group together, and looked at them each, “We have a mission for earth, one you must all teach.”

“Now take what you know, and put it out there to test...”

“We need help from so many,
for this is our quest!”

The Voyagers then started to think of something to do,
and that's when they thought, "Why of course! We have you!"

To help make the earth better, join the Voyagers' crew!

So on this great journey, you can help our planet rise,
Buckle up and get ready... we're in for a pleasant surprise!
